Naming of Pages

Due to a restriction in the wiki software, two pages cannot have the same name.

All pages for this installation are named with (Debian/Win2019) as a suffix to the page name.

Conventions

Some of the following commands will contain a password. Such commands are specified like this for extra clarity:

CAUTION PASSWORD

```
command <password>
```

These commands should first of all be pasted into an editor and modified before running them.

Note, you may wish to not provide the password to the command in clear-text for security reasons. In this case, modify the command appropriately before issuing it.
