

Holding Conferences

Once a conference has been created, it can be opened and administered by the conference manager. This task includes allowing and removing participants, recording the call and creating sub conferences.