

Creating Security Groups

To create a security group, select User data - Security groups in the main menu.

It is possible to create new security groups using the NEW button.

If you want to copy an existing group and then edit it, use the COPY button.

Name	The name of the new security group
Ordinal number	With a freely selectable ordinal number, security groups are ordered for use by further user accounts in the system.
Role	Choose which role this security group should be associated with. The security group defines the role of its member users. User - these are normal users of the system. Client - these users are administrators of the client account.
Action	Edit / Delete With Edit you switch to editing the group, where you can specify details.